

AI Red Flag Detector — Job Analysis Report

Role: Junior Full Stack Developer | Analysis Type: Technical Role Sample

89 / 100
Overall Risk Score — HIGH RISK

Top Red Flags

- Junior title requiring 5+ years experience — Severity: 10/10
- Impossible tech stack breadth (3 frontend frameworks, 4 backend languages, 3 clouds, AI/ML) — Severity: 9/10
- Contradictory role scope combining dev, infra, architecture, sales, and mentoring — Severity: 9/10
- “24/7 support when needed” — burnout indicator — Severity: 9/10
- Hustle-culture language: “work hard play hard,” “fast-paced,” “thrive under pressure,” “like a family” — Severity: 8/10
- Remote listing with hidden post-probation relocation clause — Severity: 8/10
- No salary range disclosed — Severity: 7/10
- Company is 8 months old, 12 employees, no public funding info, rapid hiring phase — Severity: 8/10
- Existing employee reviews already mention long working hours — Severity: 8/10

Positive Signals

- Relatively transparent about the relocation clause and expectation of long hours, rather than concealing them entirely — giving candidates information to act on before accepting.

Risk Breakdown

Category	Risk Level
Requirements	Very High
Culture	Very High

Company Stability	High

Final Verdict

■ AVOID

Unless treated purely as a short-term stepping stone with all terms (salary, scope, relocation, on-call expectations) negotiated and confirmed in writing before acceptance.

5 Smart Interview Questions

1. The role is listed as Junior but asks for 5+ years across a dozen technologies — can you clarify what level of proficiency is actually expected day-to-day, and what the realistic starting salary band is?
2. Can you walk me through what a typical week looks like — specifically, how often does the 24/7 support requirement actually get invoked, and is it compensated or rotated across the team?
3. The listing mentions relocation to Bengaluru 'may be required after probation' — under what specific conditions would that trigger, and is it optional or mandatory?
4. Since the company is 8 months old with 12 people, can you share your current funding status and runway? I want to understand stability before committing.
5. Recent reviews mention long working hours — what changes, if any, has leadership made in response, and what does work-life balance actually look like for someone in this role?
